

Peter Hughes

Confidentiality and information sharing across student services

To support HE students, information about a student may need to be shared across several student support services, such as counseling, health and disability support.

What models exist for information sharing?

What issues relating to confidentiality arise from information sharing?

How can these issues be mitigated?

To understand the issues relating to information sharing.

To reflect on the practice of one's own counseling service.

To address issues relating to confidentiality in one's own counseling service.